VisualTail Studio — Software License Agreement

Effective Date: October 14, 2026
Last Updated: October 14, 2026

1. Introduction

This Software License Agreement ("Agreement") governs the use, copying, modification, and distribution of software developed and distributed by VisualTail Studio ("VisualTail Studio," "we," "our," or "us").

By downloading, installing, copying, or using software covered by this Agreement, you agree to its applicable terms. If you do not agree, you must not use the software under this Agreement.

Some software may be distributed under a separate license. Where a separate license accompanies a particular software product or release, that license governs the rights and restrictions specifically addressed by it.

2. Scope

This Agreement applies to software developed by VisualTail Studio where this Agreement is expressly designated as the applicable license.

Covered software may include operating systems, applications, development tools, programming languages, utilities, games, and other digital software products.

Examples of VisualTail Studio software and projects include:

- NeoOS
- HapticScript
- Neo++
- NanoNeo
- Neo Studio
- AeroPlay

The inclusion of a name in this list does not mean that every release or project is currently distributed under this Agreement. The license accompanying a particular release determines which terms apply.

3. Ownership

Unless expressly stated otherwise, VisualTail Studio retains ownership of its original proprietary software and associated intellectual property.

This Agreement grants permission to use covered software under the conditions described below. It does not transfer ownership of the software, trademarks, or other intellectual property to the user.

Third-party materials, if present in a particular release, remain subject to their respective licenses.

4. Permission to Use

Subject to this Agreement, VisualTail Studio grants you a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable license to install and use the covered software for its intended purpose.

You may use the software on compatible devices that you own or are authorized to operate, subject to any product-specific restrictions.

You are responsible for ensuring that your use of the software complies with applicable law and any additional terms supplied with the product.

5. Copying and Distribution

Unless VisualTail Studio expressly permits otherwise in writing or through a separate license, you may not:

- Redistribute proprietary copies of the software to the public.
- Sell, sublicense, or commercially distribute the software as a standalone product.
- Remove copyright notices, ownership notices, or applicable license notices.
- Present the software as software developed or owned by another person or organization.
- Distribute modified versions of proprietary software as official VisualTail Studio releases.

These restrictions apply only to the extent permitted by applicable law and do not override rights granted under another applicable license.

6. Modification and Derivative Works

You may not modify, adapt, or create derivative works of proprietary software covered by this Agreement unless VisualTail Studio expressly authorizes the activity or applicable law grants you that right.

Where modification is authorized, you must preserve applicable notices and comply with any additional conditions attached to that authorization.

Nothing in this section restricts modification rights that are expressly granted under a separate software license.

7. Open-Source and Separately Licensed Software

Some software may be distributed under a license different from this Agreement.

If a release includes separately licensed components or is distributed under an open-source license, the relevant license governs those components or that release to the extent of any conflict.

This Agreement does not revoke, restrict, or replace rights granted to you under a valid separate license.

8. Restrictions on Misrepresentation

You may not falsely claim that you created, own, maintain, or officially represent VisualTail Studio software.

You may not use VisualTail Studio's name, logos, or trademarks to suggest that a modified or redistributed product is an official release without authorization.

You may identify VisualTail Studio as the original developer where that attribution is accurate and legally appropriate.

9. Updates and Support

VisualTail Studio may release updates, patches, new versions, or additional features.

Unless expressly stated in separate terms, this Agreement does not guarantee continued development, technical support, compatibility with future hardware, or the availability of updates.

Updates may be subject to additional terms where required.

10. Security and Responsible Use

You must not use the software to violate applicable law, compromise systems without authorization, distribute malicious code, or interfere with the security and operation of other people's devices or services.

VisualTail Studio may restrict access to related online services when reasonably necessary to address abuse or security risks, subject to applicable law.

11. Warranty Disclaimer

To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, the software is provided on an "as available" basis, without guarantees that it will be uninterrupted, error-free, compatible with every device, or free of security vulnerabilities.

You are responsible for maintaining backups of important data before installing software or applying updates.

Nothing in this Agreement excludes any warranty or consumer protection that cannot legally be excluded.

Any express warranty provided for a particular product remains governed by its applicable terms.

12. Limitation of Liability

To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, VisualTail Studio will not be liable for indirect, incidental, special, or consequential damages arising from the use of the software.

This limitation does not apply to liability that cannot legally be excluded or restricted.

Nothing in this Agreement removes statutory rights or protections that apply to you.

13. Termination

This license remains effective while you comply with its applicable terms.

If you materially violate this Agreement, your permission to use the software may terminate to the extent permitted by applicable law.

Upon termination, you must stop activities that are no longer authorized by the applicable license. Any rights granted under a separate license remain governed by that license.

14. Changes to This Agreement

VisualTail Studio may update this Agreement for future releases or uses of its proprietary software.

The applicable version should be identified by its publication date or included with the relevant release.

Changes will apply as permitted by applicable law and will not retroactively remove rights that cannot legally be revoked.

15. Governing Law

This Agreement is subject to the laws applicable to VisualTail Studio and the relevant software distribution.

A specific governing-law jurisdiction will be identified once the company's applicable jurisdiction has been confirmed.

Nothing in this section overrides mandatory legal protections.

16. Severability

If any provision of this Agreement is found invalid or unenforceable, the remaining provisions will continue to apply to the extent permitted by law.
